Presenter:

Patti Loper is an Early Childhood Specialist with Char-Em ISD. She has over 30 years of experience working in the areas of literacy development and early childhood education. Patti supports early childhood professionals as they work to achieve development and learning goals set for the children in their programs. Patti is a member of the National Association for the Education of Young Children and the Michigan Reading Association.

Conflict is a normal part of children's lives.

After all, even adults can't always agree. Children who know how to manage conflict are happier, have better friendships, and learn better at school.

When disagreements occur, young children don't have the skills to solve the problem. While parents and caregivers may find it easiest to jump in and fix the problem, helping children gain conflict resolution skills is a more useful strategy that has long-term benefits. Join us as we learn how to effectively respond to conflict and how to help children navigate the steps to problem-solving.
